PRESERVING OUR RESOURCES NOW MOST IMPORTANT

Roosevelt Talks at Memphis
on Waterways, Forests, Irrigation, Land Reclamation and Internal Policies of Government.

GREATEST PEOPLE IN WORLD.

Memphis, Oct. 4.—A magnificent welcome was extended to President Roosevelt here today. Mayor Malone and the reception committee, including General Luke E. Wright, met the president at Island, No. 40, and escorted him to the wharf, where he passed under the arch of honor. The parade was the greatest ever seen in Memphis. The deep waterways meeting convened this morning. This afternoon President Roosevelt addressed the delegates and others.

He said in part:
"The Mississippi valley is a magnificent empire in size and fertility. It is better adapted to the development of inland navigation than any other valley in either hemisphere; for there are 12,000 miles of waterway now more or less fully navigable, and the conditions are so favorable that it will be easy to increase the extent of navigable waterways to almost any required degree by canalization. Early in our industrial history this valley was the seat of the development of inland navigation in the United States.

"In wealth of natural resources no kingdom of Europe can compare with the Mississippi valley and the region around the great lakes, taken together, and in population this huge fertile plain already surpasses all save one or two of the largest European kingdoms. In this empire a peculiarly stalwart and masterful people finds itself in the surroundings best fitted for the full development of its powers and faculties. There has been a great growth in the valley of manufacturing centers; the movement is good if it does not go too far; but I most certainly hope that this region as a whole will remain predominantly agricultural. The people who live in the country districts, and who till the small or medium-sized farms on which they live, make up what is on the whole the most valuable asset in our national life. There can be just as real progress and culture in the country as in the city; especially in these days of rural free delivery, trolleys, bicycles, telephones, good roads and school improvements. The valley of the Mississippi is politically and commercially more important than any other valley on the face of the globe. Here more than anywhere else will be determined the future of the United States and indeed of the whole western world; and the type of civilization reached in this mighty valley, in this vast stretch of country lying between the Alleghenies and the Rockies, the great lakes and the gulf, will largely fix the type of civilization for the whole western hemisphere. Already, as our history shows, the west has determined our national political development, and the fundamental principle of present American politics, political equality, was originally a western idea.

"The wonderful variety of resources in different portions of the valley make the demand for transportation (Continued on Page Six.)

Adler Denies Land Frauds.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 4.—B. Frank Adler, a wealthy manufacturer, of Milwaukee, on the witness stand in the case against the Federal Coal and Iron company, charged with land frauds in Colorado, denied the charges made against him in the indictments. Mr. Adler admitted that he was elected president of the company when it was formed, and that he dropped the plans which were then prepared soon after because he feared they were in violation of the law.

Frisco Democrats Nominate.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—The Democratic convention last night nominated Dr. Edward Robeson Taylor for mayor, and William H. Langdon, the present incumbent, for district attorney. Several Republicans were given places. The platform strongly commends the work of the bribery and graft prosecution.

Last of Crew Rescued.

Kilrush, Oct. 4.—Nine men, the last of the crew of the 13 on the schooner Leo, which went on the rocks Wednesday, were taken off today. It is doubtful if all recover.

Root Is Honored.

Mexico City, Oct. 4.—Secretary of State Root has been elected a member of the Mexican Academy of Jurisprudence and legislation.

QUARREL OVER A POTATO PATCH RESULTS IN FARMER WOUNDING HIS NEIGHBOR

Mose Butler Comes to Paducah to Have His Wounds Dressed and Tells Story of Trouble.

In a quarrel over a small patch of potatoes this morning in Livingston county, one mile from Clark's river, and about five miles from Paducah, Mose Butler was shot in the left arm and leg by Puryear Owens, who is a fugitive.

Butler came to Paducah this morning at 11 o'clock, two hours after the shooting and related the facts in Dr. J. W. Pendley's office, while his arm was being dressed. He said:

"I leased a patch of ground to Owens for potatoes. He lives on a farm adjoining mine, and when it came time to work the potatoes he did not wish to do his share of the work. I went to a magistrate, who told me that I could do nothing, because I had no contract. This occurred before Sunday, and on the Sabbath we had words. This morning I was repairing the fence within 20 feet of my house when Owens walked up with two tin pans on his left arm and a coat slung over his right arm. We talked a while and Owens became angry, calling me names. I saw a flash come from the coat he was holding over his arm and hand. I felt a sting in my arm, another shot went through my pants leg, grazing my skin. After firing once more, he fled."

Dr. Pendley found Butler's arm broken, the bullet having penetrated the wrist bone. Both men are about 45 years old and have families in Livingston county.

EXCHANGE PLANS DEFERRED UNTIL OFFICERS ARRIVE

Unsuccessful in chartering a boat, and the failure of arrival of a national officer, are the reasons reported for deferring organization of a Farmers' Exchange. Original plans were for organization of the exchange at Birmingham tomorrow, but neither the "J. S." or "Butterfly" could be chartered, and there being no other boats obtainable, the matter was deferred off for a time. Until the arrival of a national officer from Detroit, Mich., one who has been organizing exchanges throughout the country and who is thoroughly familiar with the work, nothing will be done towards organization here, it is stated.

Central Body Met.

Last night Central Labor Union met in regular session but transacted no business of public interest. The demands of ship carpenters have not been reported to the body and will not be unless complications arise in the fight just launched.

Home and the Church.

Oshkosh, Wis., Oct. 4.—Wisconsin Congressmen adopted a new constitution and changed the name of the state body today. Prof. George A. Coe, of the Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., declared that the weakest spot in church life was in the home itself, and he asserted that parents should teach their children religion and not leave the whole burden to the Sunday school. At the same time, he advocated a Sunday school system molded along the lines of the public schools with paid expert teachers.

Mother Witness Against Son.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The special venire from which will be drawn the jurors to try Michael Casey for the murder of his brother, John, was ordered today by Judge Kerstone. Mrs. Margaret Brennan, aged mother of both men, will be principal.

COMES TO SEE COMRADE WHOM HE HAD NURSED

Corporal Frank Morgan is the Guest of George Ficklin
in This City.

Love for a comrade with whom he had fought in the Spanish-American war and had nursed in the hospital after a cannon ball had torn his comrade's arm away, prompted Corporal Frank K. Morgan, of Co. 21, Twenty-first coast artillery, to travel all the way from Fort Whipple, Ariz., to Paducah to see George Ficklin, of 1640 Clay street.

The two soldiers enlisted in the same company at the outbreak of the war and during the fight at San Juan Hill Ficklin was wounded. All the time his comrade was in the hospital Morgan attended him during his hours off duty.

When Ficklin recovered he was discharged and returned home, while Morgan continued in the service. After spending a few weeks' vacation Corporal Morgan will rejoin in the coast artillery service at the local recruiting station under Captain Reed.

TWO JOCKIES ARE INJURED DURING MAYFIELD RACES

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 4. (Special.)—Two accidents marred the latter part of the day yesterday at the fair grounds during the running races. Jockey Murphy was thrown from his mount and knocked senseless in a peculiar manner in front of the grand stand, and Jockey Snow (colored) was trampled by a green horse and severely hurt. Murphy was just getting away from the barrier with the bunch, when the snapping rubber caught him around the neck, dragging him from the horse. He fell heavily and never stirred until he was picked up. He will recover. Young Snow was on a green horse, which ran away with him. It threw him to the track and stepped on his leg, only bruising it severely.

ROSSINGTON COUPLE.

Mr. Russell Page and Miss Martha Carut, of Rossington, were married today at Metropolis by Magistrate Thomas Liggett. They were accompanied by Mr. E. Martin and Miss Mary Barrett.

EUROPE INTERESTED.

London, Oct. 4.—Speeches by Roosevelt in the United States and Taft in Japan and sensational utterances of some newspapers have revived interest in the plan for the moving of America's sea power from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

USED PADUCAH HORSES.

Mr. Stephen Pool, of the Paducah Undertaking company, claims the distinction of furnishing the white horses and driver to draw President Roosevelt's carriage at Cairo yesterday. Fritz Kattler did the driving. Cairo representatives who came to Paducah to engage horses promised every local undertaker to use his white span of horses. Because of promiscuous promises no one but Mr. Pool ventured to fill the bill.

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy and cooler tonight and Saturday.

Indian Mutiny.

Calcutta, Oct. 4.—Coming as the direct result of agitation for self rule for India, an uprising of students last night, culminating in an assault on police when 50 officers were injured, has aroused great fear that the long dreaded Indian mutiny may be at hand. Other bloody riots are expected.

SOME RAILROADS PAY 100 PER CENT MORE THAN PRICE

New York, Oct. 4.—With his revelations showing how the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, forces 97 per cent of the railroads to buy from it their lubricating oil, some paying 100 per cent more than others, Frank B. Kellogg, was well under way in his plan to expose the relationship of the oil trust with the transportation companies. As the federal court counsel in the suit to disclose the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, he charges that a uniform system of discrimination in rates in favor of Rockefeller's concern was in use up to 1905, when they were stopped because it was apparent they would be made public, but that many such rates exist now.

RIVERSIDE HOSPITAL STAFF

Following is the visiting staff of physicians at Riverside hospital for the next three months, selected by the board of directors:
Surgical, Drs. C. M. Sears and P. H. Stewart.
Medical, Dr. J. B. Acree and S. B. Pulliam.
Genito Urinary, Dr. J. D. Robertson.
Obstetrics, Dr. B. B. Griffith.
Eye, ear and nose, Dr. C. E. Purcell.

MRS. J. H. FORD DIES AT BENTON MRS. WELLS DIES

Benton, Ky., Oct. 4. (Special.)—Mrs. J. H. Ford, wife of the postmaster of Benton, died last night after a lingering illness, and was buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The funeral took place at the Christian church, the Rev. W. T. McGowan officiating.

Mrs. Wells Dies.

Mrs. Andrew Wells, 75 years old, died here this morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, Dr. C. D. Howard. Mrs. Wells was a native of Callaway county and the funeral will take place at her old home.

GOING TO TESTIFY IN OLD DAMAGE SUIT

Seven prominent doctors, accompanied Mayor D. A. Yeiser and City Engineer L. A. Washington, this morning to Madisonville to give expert testimony in a damage suit. They are all summoned by the defense, and few knew exactly what would be expected of them.

Those in the party were: Mayor D. A. Yeiser, City Engineer L. A. Washington, Drs. Frank Boyd, D. G. Murrell, John Randolph Rogers, Marquette Dillon, of New Orleans; Horace T. Rivers, J. Q. Taylor, and J. T. Reddick.

"These doctors are going up to testify in the damage suit, and I am going up to testify as to their good character," declared Mayor Yeiser. "I do not know what is wanted of the city engineer, however."

The suit to be tried is one instituted many years ago by Ed Buchanan against the Illinois Central for $2,000 for personal injuries sustained in falling from an Illinois Central engine. Dr. Dillon was then resident physician in the Illinois Central hospital. Drs. Murrell and Taylor are now connected with the hospital and at the time Engineer Washington had just severed connections with the engineering department of the road.

Close Call of Passengers.

Ashtabula, O., Oct. 4.—A trolley car with 20 passengers jumped the track and ran toward the edge of the viaduct. The fore part of the car was hanging over the viaduct when it stopped the car hit a trolley pole, just saving the passengers from a 100 foot fall.

WILLSON'S AUDIENCE LARGER THAN THE ONE THAT GREETED GOV. BECKHAM AND JAMES

Republican Standard Bearer Lays Bare Abuses of Present State Regime.

Pleading for the wiping out of party prejudices and for a return to the good old days when Kentucky was governed by patriots who knew only duty, who knew not the meaning of the word graft, the Hon. Augustus E. Willson was forced to bring his speech to a close in a rain that had almost begun to fall in torrents.

More than 1,500 people had gathered at the speaker's stand at Fifth street and Kentucky avenue last night to hear the great apostle of reform in Kentucky politics, and notwithstanding that a rain began to fall before the speaker had been introduced and made his preliminary remarks, not even one of the goodly number of ladies, who were present, left until Mr. Willson had ceased to speak.

Mr. Willson was introduced by Mr. James P. Smith, Republican nominee for mayor. The first public appearance of Mr. Smith was greeted with uproarious applause from the great audience, and it was several minutes before he was allowed to proceed with the introduction of the speaker of the evening.

After expressing his appreciation of the interest evidenced in his candidacy by the large audience who had come out on such a threatening night, Mr. Willson took up the record of the present administration and exposed the glaring inconsistencies and extravagances of government under the Beckham regime.

Just State Issues.

"National politics should not be considered in the present campaign this year," said Mr. Willson. "The questions to be decided are purely ones of business. The state is one great business institution and you, the people, are the stockholders. In November you will be called upon to elect a board of directors, and the question is whether you will continue the old board of directors, who have spent your money lavishly and given out the clerkships for the furthering of their own personal interests, or whether you will elect a new set of directors that promise to give you an economical management.

"Time was when, with either party choosing its best men, there was nothing to be lost by the election of either."

Then Mr. Willson went on to show that the old time Democracy and the old time Democrats had been turned

DRIZZLING RAIN DRIVES WILLSON INTO COURT ROOM

Murray, Ky., Oct. 4. (Special.)

Drizzling rain prevented the open air meeting here this afternoon, but A. E. Willson, candidate for governor is speaking in the court room to a large audience. He was introduced by A. D. Thompson, a well known Democrat. Capt. Edwin Farley and Mr. F. M. Fisher, of Paducah, are here. On account of the independent candidate for the legislature, who will poll a big vote, Callaway county Democracy seems to be split. There was the same apathy toward registration shown by the Democrats in this county, this has been noted all over the state.

Mr. Willson will speak at Benton tomorrow.

Carnival Season of Gaiety in Paducah is Over and Last of Visitors Have Left the City

The streets of Paducah present a lack of color today, the last of the delegates to the K. of P. grand lodge meeting having returned to their homes, and for the first time in almost a month there are no visitors in the city. During the special events of the past few weeks Paducah has entertained thousands of visitors. The Modern Woodmen of America held their interstate meeting, a horse show and races, circus and the K. of P. meeting have kept the hotels

"You know the thing that now parades at Frankfort in Democracy's breeches is not good old fashioned Democracy of which you were justly proud," said he addressing the Democrats in the audience.

CUBAN PRISONERS FREE.

Santiago de Cuba, Oct. 4.—Captain Dougherty, of the Rurales, will investigate the disappearance of twenty prisoners left by him in charge of Cuban officers. There is strong suspicion that the prisoners were given machetes. If proven, the offenders will be severely dealt with.

SHIP CARPENTERS.

Ship carpenters, employed at the Paducah Marines Railway company, Paducah Dry Docks company, Ayer & Lord private docks and West Kentucky Coal company private docks, have demanded an increase of 50 cents per day for nine hours' work, and if the bosses do not give a favorable answer by Monday, a general walkout will result. There are about 225 carpenters employed at the four plants.

NEW PASTOR COMING.

The Rev. J. W. Cantrell, the new pastor of Mechanicsburg M. E. church, will arrive in this city tomorrow and will take up the work promptly in his new church. Mr. Cantrell's family probably will not come till the first of next week.

Services Sunday will be Sunday school 9:15 a. m.; Junior League, 2 p. m.; Senior League, 7 p. m. Preaching by the pastor at 10:45 a. m. and 8 p. m.

BUILDING ORDINANCE.

There will be a meeting of the joint ordinance committee tonight for the purpose of passing on several ordinances to be presented before the boards next week. One important measure is the building inspector ordinance, 75 pages in length.

The ordinance committee will meet tonight in regular session on bills, accounts, etc., must be in before tonight. It is expected pay in two weeks.

ROOSEVELT MAKES FINE IMPRESSION THROUGH VALLEY

Discards all Pretense at Tricks of Oratory, But Devotes Attention to Emphasis and Distinctness—Wastes no Word
in Vain Effect

TALK TEEMS WITH EPIGRAMS.

(Staff Correspondence.)

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 4.—The Mississippi valley is for Roosevelt. And Roosevelt is for the Mississippi valley.

This is not a mere assumption based on his word and apparent sincerity of his manner. No man could witness the parade of that great merchant fleet, see the throng of enthusiastic people and feel the warmth of that hospitable welcome he received yesterday at Cairo, and not be profoundly and lastingly impressed.

There is something about the silent, relentless sweep of a great river that stirs the emotions. The waiting crowds, the floating banners, the line of military, the white hulled steamers—a dozen of them lying fully manned at the wharf—and the busy stir of the little harbor tugs, turned for the occasion into police patrols, added an air of expectancy, which the river was to fulfill. Then, as if to carry out in detail the effect of magic, while the cannons boomed a salute of 21 guns, there was a blur of black smoke, as the flotilla turned into the Ohio, that resolved itself into the units of the president's fleet with the Mississippi leading, and the others ranging in three lines behind, and the harbor patrols running fussily about, an impudent excursion boat, playing ribald tunes on a steam calliope, bringing up the rear.

Sharply outlined and solitary on the forward deck of the Mississippi, the president's stocky figure was easily made out. Solidly planted, erect and attentive, he looked like the Theodore Roosevelt of the magazines and the "Teddy" of the cartoons. The sight he witnessed from the steamboat deck must have repaid him as well as the trip to Cairo did the excursionists.

Indeed, he said, in one of the infrequent outbursts of extemporaneous confidences in which he indulges in the course of his set speeches: "The president gets more good out of these visits over the country, than do the people of the section which he visits."

Roosevelt is an odd mixture of impatience, abruptness and courtesy. He had no more than blurted out the formal introduction of his speech than he turned his back on the audience, seized a chair, planted it where he had stood and mounted it so that he rose two feet higher before the audience.

"I saw some of you standing on your tip toes," he said simply, his voice squealing when he said "tip," on account of hoarseness.

One gets no more from hearing Roosevelt's set speeches than from reading them, except the genuine sincerity of tone, which only is necessary to utterly convince his public. Roosevelt has no graces of form, carriage, manner or tone. His gestures are exclusively for emphasis and as a rule involuntary. When he is in earnest he seems to be physically in earnest, and he enlists every fibre and muscle of his body in the supreme effort to make himself emphatic. And he succeeds.

He is No Orator.
Yesterday was his first opportunity to watch the president deliver an address. I have gotten up at unearthly hours, after working all night to tell the public how Roosevelt came in. I have paraded with him and I have stood at the tail end of his train

HARDIN MAN KILLED.

Golconda, Ill., Oct. 4. (Special.)—Henry Banks, a citizen of Hardin county, Ky., was killed here yesterday afternoon while scoring for a race with one of his horses. He was knocked down and trampled by the animal.

Will Annul Excess Fare.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—It is understood in Pittsburg that pending the decision of the Pennsylvania supreme court on the Dunsmore 2 cent fare bill the Pennsylvania railroad will annul the extra fare on fast trains between Pittsburg and Chicago. The rule has been to charge an excess fare of $1 an hour for each hour elapsed from a twenty-eight hour schedule between New York and Chicago, the extra fare on the eighteen hour special being $10.

from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drift them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, organic troubles, ulceration, falling and displacements, or perhaps irregularity or suppression causing backache, nervousness, irritability, and sleeplessness.

Women everywhere should remember that the medicine that holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female ills is made from simple native roots and herbs. For more than thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, regulating the functions perfectly and overcoming pain. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for child-birth and the Change of Life.

Mrs. A. M. Hagermann, of Bay Shore, L. I., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—“I suffered from a displacement, excessive and painful functions so that I had to lie down or sit still most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman so that I am able to attend to my duties. I wish every suffering woman would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see what relief it will give them.”

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female illness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. for advice. She is the Mrs. Pinkham who has been advising sick women free of charge for more than twenty years, and before that she assisted her mother-in-law Lydia E. Pinkham in advising. Therefore she is especially well qualified to guide sick women back to health.

This is Worse Than Anything That Charles Dickens Said About Cairo

A young man named Lord who was with the presidential party in Cairo yesterday representing the Laffan News Agency, says the Bulletin, composed of the news service of the New York Sun, sent the following message to his agency regarding Roosevelt day in Cairo:

Cairo began a new era today with the visit of President Roosevelt. Heretofore everything in this part of Egypt has dated from Charles Dickens' visit here and returning to England wrote the story of Martin Chuzzlewit with its sad commentary on Cairo and its people. Cairo has never forgiven the great English novelist, for the bitter things he said still rumble in the breasts of the people of this community. They didn't forget it even today when the president came, for the mayor made reference to Dickens and his estimate of Cairo, in his address of welcome. “Tis said that you can't buy a set of Dickens' works in the town, so great is the feeling toward the English writer. But, anyway, they don't run especial-

There's Exceptional Style in this "Yale" Suit for Young Men

IT'S another of the Ederheimer-Stein garments we've selected to demonstrate in every sale we make that this is, in fact, a superior clothing store.

1. The Yale is the smartest Young Man's style—striking in the weave and rich colors of the fabrics—combines good taste, service, satisfaction—lends the air of true refinement—is fashionable without being fancy.

2. The young fellow who exercises common sense and good judgment in the selection of this style, cannot be commonplace. It's a suit for college men or any others who are particular. Let us show it to you.

Superior tailoring reaches its climax in the Yale. Each garment is made separately by skillful hand needlework throughout. Trimmings and fabrics all match. Every operation of the tailor contributes to make it distinctive, individual.

THE “YALE.”—Coat is long and full chested; cuffs on sleeves; open seams down back of coat and sides of trousers. Trousers full at waist. Sizes 30 to 38. Prices $18 to $35.

ly to literature in Cairo. There are other pleasures which occupy the public mind.

“Do they play poker?” asked some one of Congressman Pleas Chapman who represents Egypt in congress, and who came down here to meet the president.

“Do they play poker?” responded Pleas. “Why, my boy, they teach it in the public schools.”

So, as Cairo is increasing her population and her production every year, they don't worry very much over what an English novelist said about their ancestors and their town half a century ago. Then Cairo had only a few hundred people. Today you ask the average citizen the population of Cairo and he says, “well, 20,000 including the whites.”

This same correspondent referred to the fact that some of the carriages for the presidential party had been procured from other cities, saying that whenever any event occurs in Cairo which demands more than two carriages we have to send away for them.

THEATRICAL NOTES

“King of the Cattle Ring.”

The performance given by Manager Eller's company at the Grand last night before a good house met with the approval of everyone in the theater, says an Evansville paper, “King of the Cattle Ring” which appears here Tuesday night.

The play is a dramatization of one of Hal Reid's stories and his free, open style is apparent all through the show. The scene is laid in the far west and the plot revolves around the efforts of Francisco Mendez, a desperate Mexican gambler, to secure Rosalie Leonard, a ranchman's daughter, and the flower of the prairies. Frank Gordon, king of the cattle ring and idol of the cattleman, foils his efforts and wins his way to the hearts of everyone in the audience. W. C. Davis handles the part of Gordon admirably and the other characters are conscientiously portrayed. The stage settings are all good and the show was pronounced one of the best mel-dramas seen here this season.

The Vendetta.

The Vendetta, which will be presented at the Kentucky theater on October 9, is a remarkable production and Miss Beatrice Harrington, who appears in the emotional leading title role of Nina, has won a place in the front rank of stars on the American stage today. Her supporting company is good, and the costume, scenic and electrical effects elaborate.

FAIRBANKS COCKTAIL.

Defended By Senator Culberson of Texas.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Apropos of cocktails, Senator Culberson of Texas, though a Democrat, came to the defense of Vice-President Fairbanks today.

“Mr. Fairbanks is a tototaller,” said Senator Culberson: “I am amazed at the criticism heaped on the vice-president on account of the alleged cocktail incident. I don't believe, and I think no other senator believes, Mr. Fairbanks ever tasted the cocktail when it was put on the table.”

The hypocrite is the devil's best argument.

DIAMOND GIVEN TO MR. R. E. FULMER

Retiring Master Mechanic is Greatly Surprised.

He Will Go To Richmond, Va., Tomorrow To Accept Position in a Shop There.

MR. NASH WILL TAKE CHARGE.

Mr. R. E. Fulmer, retiring master mechanic of the Illinois Central shops, is wearing an elegant diamond stud, a testimonial of the excellent esteem and popularity in which he is held by the shops' employees. The stud was purchased by the shopmen, and was presented to the popular official by Mr. Fred Flanagan, the well known machinist, who in a graceful speech in behalf of shop employees, wished him success in his new field and regretted his departure. Mr. Fulmer was surprised, but managed to stammer out his thanks and gratitude to the men for their excellent behavior and work while he held authority.

Mr. Fulmer came here from Denver and rose from machinist to subforeman and later to master mechanic. He was always a quiet and unassuming man, and a more popular official could not be found.

Regarding the office force in the master mechanic's department, it is stated that no changes will be made. Mr. Fulmer, when appointed to succeed Master Mechanic R. J. Turnbull, let the force remain as he found it, and from inside sources comes the information that Mr. Nash will pursue the same course.

Mr. R. E. Fulmer will leave for Richmond, Va., tomorrow night to accept a position with the Richmond locomotive works. The popular official first accepted a position with a Denver road as master mechanic, but reconsidered and accepted the Richmond position. It is one similar to that held here, except that he will have no division to look after.

Mr. George Hannin, the well known Illinois Central tinner, has resigned and accepted a position with J. C. Maret.

A Horse Trader.

“Deacon” Snow, who recently died in Provincetown at a good old age, was one of the shrewdest horse traders on the cape, says the Boston Herald. He once had a horse which showed a rooted aversion to covering more than three miles an hour.

A customer who liked the appearance of the animal had about concluded to purchase and asked if he was a good traveler. The “deacon” assuming a confidential tone, said: “Mr. Jones, you'll certainly be pleased to see that horse go.”

The bargain was made and the new owner drove away. The next morning bright and early he appeared on the scene in great rage. “See here,” he cried, addressing the “deacon,” “I thought you told me this horse was a great traveler.”

“Never said nuthin' of the kind,” was the quiet reply.

“What in thunderation did you say, then?”

“I said you would certainly be pleased to see that horse go, and so would anyone else, I guess, that owned him.”

KIDNEY DISEASE SAPPING THE AMERICAN NATION?

A Word of Warning—and a Remedy.

Modern conditions of living in America are said to be increasing Kidney, Bladder and Rheumatic Affections at such a rapid rate that the public health is threatened.

winter. He—Yes, I guess there are proposed that the newspapers of the country give wide publicity to Dr. Flood's prescription not only as being the finest remedy for these ailments known but one in which the people can place perfect confidence, coming as it does from such eminent medical authority.

This is a practical suggestion that should result in the relief of a vast amount of suffering and we take pleasure in being able to help the idea by giving the doctor's famous prescription in full:

Concentrated Barkola Compound
Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic.
Aromatic Elixir.
Get the ingredients at any drug store, mix them at home and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one before going to bed.

A FORM OF FOOD ALREADY DIGESTED

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ of the seed and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a pale malt, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances renders it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

The New Treasury Notes. Each of the new $10 treasury notes has a portrait of Michael Hillegas upon it, labeled, “First Treasurer of the United States.” This recognition of a man whose personal worth and services to his country have been too long obscured, says a writer, “must be credited to a descendant, the Rev. Michael Lee Minch, a Lutheran pastor, and to Secretaries John Hay and Leslie M. Shaw, who, from the archives of the state and treasury departments got proof of Hillegas' prior claims to a post hitherto credited either to Robert Morris or Samuel Meredith. Hillegas was a pre-revolutionary Philadelphia sugar refiner, manufacturer of iron and merchant, whose credit was at George Washington's command whenever the great military leader needed funds. He fostered historical research and was a musician of note.”—Chicago News

CLOTHES OF QUALITY

CLOTHES don't make the man, to be sure, but it's about the only thing that nine-tenths of the people we meet have to go by. The man who does not make a good appearance in this day and age is badly handicapped. Every day now we are receiving something new and distinctive for our Fall Clothing Stock.

Our single and double-breasted Suits in Cassimeres and worsteds are notably rich in fabric and stylish in cut, though the prices range from only $5.00 up to $25.00

Our Young Men's Suits at $3.50 to $15 have that snappy, jaunty appearance which the young fellows demand these days. Come and see if they haven't.

Extra Trousers are the salvation of many a passable Suit and we have them at prices which will be the salvation of many a pocketbook. The best trouser makers we know build ours, though they cost no more than the ordinary kind. Work pants

$1.00 to $2.50

Nice ones

$3.50 to $6.00

The toughest Clothing proposition that ever confronts a fond parent is the boys' Clothes question. But we have the answer here in the new Fall Suits for boys from 4 to 16. They are strongly sewed, well stayed, buttons well put on and not a detail omitted that would add to strength or durability. The price is

Grew Miss Carroll's Hair

AND WE CAN

PROVE IT!

BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Small Cost

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been searching for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before a remedy can be created. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be created for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural and logical thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Dr. Knowlton's DANDERINE has a most curious effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every Drug and Toilet Store in the land. Three sizes,

ONR FOREIGN RELATIONS.

If Japan wishes to know how the national administration stands, she can learn by reading Roosevelt's speech at Cairo, a safe, courageous exposition of America's foreign policy, coupled with the declaration that the Pacific ocean is our "home waters" as much as is the Atlantic. He said:

"The only safe and honorable rule of foreign policy for the United States is to show itself courteous toward other nations, scrupulous not to infringe upon their rights, and yet able and ready to defend its own. The nation is now on terms of most cordial good will with all other nations. Let us make it a prime object of our policy to preserve these conditions.
To do so it is necessary on the one hand to mete out a generous justice to all other peoples and show them courtesy and respect; and on the other hand, as we are yet a good way off from the millennium, to keep ourselves in such shape as to make it evident to all men that we desire peace because we think it is just and right and not from motives of weakness or timidity."

This followed an excellent exposition of a proper national attitude.
Neither a coward nor a bully. Neither taking insult, nor giving insult.
A nation so ready to fight, yet so temperate, that the world can see, we seek peace, because we desire it; not because we are afraid.
With that sort of attitude Japan

may be assured of the desirability of peace with us.

ROOSEVELTISMS.

Every man must have a master;
if he is not his own master, then somebody else will be.

If any great movement for righteousness, where the forces of evil are strongly entrenched, it is unfortunately inevitable that some unoffending people should suffer in company with the real offenders.

I honor no man, not even the soldier who fights for righteousness quite as much as I honor the good woman who does her full duty as wife and mother.

Ours is a government of liberty
but of orderly liberty.

I would do everything in my power for the laboring man, except anything that is wrong. I have the same answer for the business man.

If righteousness conflicts with the fancied needs of business, then the latter must suffer.

Great navigable rivers are national assets.

Our great national asset is to be found in our children.

The ideal weather Beckham and James enjoyed on their visit here,
and the rain that threatened Mr.
Willson's audience did not afford the only contrast between the two meetings. The atmospheric conditions simply served to emphasize the difference in numbers and enthusiasm.

SCHOOLS AND POLITICS.

"If for incompetency, inability, or for lack of any of the qualifications essential to making an efficient public official the Democrats of McCracken county shelve one of their aspiring members all he has to do is to make application to the Republicans and he will be received with open arms, and will be permitted to run
for office just as long as he pleases.
For further information apply to Prof. George O. McBroom, erstwhile Democrat and Democratic officeholder."

This diatribe of the News-Democrat is incomprehensible, except in connection with a recent accusation of the same paper that Prof. George O.
McBroom had refused to do a certain thing, while enjoying "Democratic pie."

That makes the News-Democrat's position clear. Prof. George O. Mc-Broom for a dozen years was in charge of the Paducah public schools,
and he was elected by Democratic boards. Consequently, the thought arises, if "incompetency, inability"
and "lack of any of the qualifications essential to making a competent public official," are characteristic of Professor McBroom, those Democratic school trustees should have discovered his shortcomings in those twelve years and his retention, if incompetent, is a reflection on those gentlemen.

During his service as superintendent of schools, no doubt, Professor McBroom properly eschewed all politics; but the declaration, that he was eating "Democratic pie" indicates the esteem in which the public schools of Paducah are held by the News-Democrat and its allies. The office of superintendent under a Democratic board is considered
"Democratic pie" by the News-Democrat. That this is so is shown not only by the editorial; but by the platform of Democratic candidates at the last election: "Paducah schools for Paducah people;" meaning that they considered positions in the schools as so much political patronage. Undoubtedly they considered the platform a vote getter and nothing else.

Professor George O. McBroom never held a Democratic office in his life.
If Democrats for twelve consecutive years elected him superintendent of the public schools, it was because they considered him eminently fitted for the position. The reflection is on them if they did not.

The Murray Ledger publishes a vicious editorial about the Paducah horse show, in which it charges that the show was a "rotten fake" conducted by "a lot of grafters," for the benefit of a "few professional foolies;" because Mr. Ewing Haley, of Murray was awarded only one third prize and two second prizes.
That editorial, because Mr. Haley is a sportsman. Mr. Haley owns fine horses and his exhibits are always features of the horse show; and the loss of them would be seriously felt.
Heretofore Mr. Haley has had pretty much his own way; but the exhibition of his horses stimulated others,
and this year a distinct improvement
was noted in the kind of animals exhibited as well as their numbers, and there was not much room to choose between the first and second and third prizes.

Union Rescue Mission.

Report for September, 1907—We have had a very busy month, preached 20 sermons besides conducting 2 funerals and preached twice in jail and once at poor farm, visited and ministered in 15 homes, had 3 conversions, 4 reclaimed and many requests for prayer. Distributed 300 useful articles of clothing, besides bed clothing, 250 religious papers besides periodicals and tracts, 50
good books and 10 Bibles, 8 baskets of provisions to 8 families, gave away 126 meals, lodgings 51, got permanent home in the country for one boy eight years old, employment for five women. Four of them had a child each. We entertained these women and children until they were located,
which accounts for so many meals and lodgings given. Respectfully submitted, R. W. Chiles, pastor, Mrs.
Ida B. Chiles, assistant. Old phone

GET WHAT YOU WANT.

The "Just as Good Kind" Never Pays.

If there is one thing more than another that should aggravate a self-respecting person, it is to be told that the article they ask for at their druggist's is not to be had,
but that they can have something
"just as good or better." The principal reason for such attempts at substitution is either the desire of the storekeeper to sell something on which he can make more money, or he hasn't the goods asked for, and wants to make a sale of something in its place.

Every reader of this paper should bear in mind when asking for Vinol,
the modern cod liver oil preparation
that it is for sale in Paducah at our store, only, and that it can always be had when asked for.

The reason Vinol is so far superior to old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions is because it is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cods' livers combining with peptonate of iron all the medicinal, healing and body building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil.

As a body builder and strength creator for old people, delicate children,
weak, run-down persons, after sickness, and for Chronic Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles, Vinol is unexcelled.

No one wants an old-fashioned cod liver oil preparation or emulsion after once tasting delicious Vinol. Try it.
If it fails to benefit we will return
your money. W. B. McPherson, Druggist, Paducah, Ky.

WILLSON'S AUDIENCE

what the Democratic party stood for in Kentucky. Could you name one single principle, one single measure which it endorses?"

Wasting Public Money.

Returning to the administration of Governor Beckham Mr. Willson declared that the people of the state were paying out more money and getting less in return than any state in the union. He deplored the condition of the common schools in the state and said that fully three-fourths of the children of the state are without proper educational facilities.

The present administration has collected enormous sums from the people in the way of taxes and millions from the national government and yet there is nothing to show for it.

The claim of Beckham for credit for the present financial condition of the state was shown to be without foundation. Mr. Willson told of the bad state of the state's finances when Governor Bradley took the reins of government. The state treasury was empty and state warrants selling at 20 cents on the dollar. At the close of his administration Governor Bradley had paid $800,000 of the state's indebtedness of $1,800,000 and turned over to the Democrats enough money to have wiped out the debt.

Goebel Murder.
The speaker then referred to the Goebel assassination and expressed regret that it had again been lugged into politics.

"It seems almost incredible to me," declared Mr. Willson. "that intelligent men should resort to the rehearsal of the Goebel murder in order to get votes from an equally intelligent people. You are all tired of these political persecutions, and want an end of them, and I want to say to you that when I am elected governor the men indicted in connection with that tragedy will have immediate and fair trials, the same as in other cases of criminality. They won't be delayed eight years for political purposes. I don't believe in pardoning criminals,

and neither does any other honorable Kentuckian, but I believe in a square deal and a fair trial for all men, and so do you, because you are Kentuckians."

"But when I charge the Democratic party with mismanagement of the elementary institutions and cruelty
to the unfortunate inmates, especially in the asylums, I am met with the reply that 'Goebel was assassinated.'
When I charge them with graft and fraud they reply 'Goebel was assassinated.' As an excuse for holding offices to which they were never elected they say 'Goebel was assassinated.'"

The Pardon Record.

Mr. Willson told his audience seriously and earnestly how the powers of the people of Kentucky had been willfully prostituted by the little circle of politicians at Frankfort, and called their especial attention to the astonishing record of pardons, paroles and restorations to citizenship made by Governor Beckham during his administration.

"Isn't that almost like opening the doors of the penitentiary," he asked them, after he had read the record
taken from the books at Frankfort.
"What do you good Kentuckians think of a governor who pardons 37 men convicted for crimes against our womanhood, and especially when 29
of them were convicted for the unspeakable crimes. Do you believe that the juries and the higher courts in these cases were crazy?"

"And what do you say to a governor who issues 121 pardons for violations of the Sunday closing law, especially when he has been before you
and all over the state preaching temperance?"

It was with the closest attention and most earnest interest that his audience listened to Mr. Willson's arraignment of this appalling record made by a Kentucky governor, and audible expressions of disapproval were heard all over the audience and after the meeting men collected on the street corners to discuss it.

The fitness of Auditor Hager to be governor of Kentucky was challenged by Mr. Willson. "To make a good governor he would of necessity have to have made a good state officer, and this I deny," he declared. "You can judge for yourselves if he has made a good auditor of the state of Kentucky," and then he went into details of Mr. Hager's record in the Seminole case in Louisville, charging him with shielding a defaulting county official, and after that official had been turned out of office by the court of appeals, working with might and main to secure his reappointment in the new county administration in order to escape revelations as to his own office, which he knew would be disclosed in the event of Mr. Sem-on's permanent retirement from the county clerkship.

The Temperance Question.

The inconsistencies of the Democrats on the temperance question was the subject of much ridicule by the speaker and the amusing attempt to play both sides, with one candidate on the ticket advocating the id while others openly declaring for wide open conditions in the cities.

In reply to the charge that the whisky people were supporting him in the election, Mr. Willson said that he knew no reason for their support
unless it was because of the fact that Governor Beckham had collected tens of thousands of dollars from the whisky interests and had thrown them down. "The whisky men had rather have a square man elected,
who is opposed to them, than to have a man who will promise them anything, take their money and throw them down."

After he was forced to close his speech on account of the rain Mr.
Willson returned to the hotel where he held an informal reception in the lobby. Hundreds of people crowded around the leader and pledged their support, many of the number being those who have heretofore been staunch Democrats.

Reasons

We wish to give those readers of The Sun who are not our cus-

How Are You on VESTS?

The growing popularity of the Fancy Vests is easily ex-

BENTON.

On last Sunday the large tobacco barn of Dan F. Fiser, of Bensburg, was burned. It contained 5,000 sticks of tobacco about cured; but the fire was still in the barn. It took fire while Mr. Fiser was at dinner. This is a heavy loss, which amounts to $1,000 or $1,200. His many friends sympathize with him in this loss.

NATURE AS A RECONSTRUCTOR.
"Nature repairs her ravages—repairs them with her sunshine and with human labor."

Osteopathy is one of Nature's most used instruments in repairing her ravages. Take the Osteopathic treatment of headaches. It locates the primary cause and removes it, not in administering a common known sed-ative to one and all alike, but by a simple mechanical manipulation.

So, in digestive disorders Osteopathy restores the nervous equilibrium to the stomach, bowels, liver, pancreas, etc., and a unity of action established the disorders are readily controlled and cured.

Constipation can be cured only by observing nature's laws. The regular movements of the bowels depend on their nerve and blood supply. If one or the other is disturbed in any way
here is disorder—sickness. Osteopathy here again is Nature's cure.

I should like to tell you personally
at any time of the great success I am having with the treatment and refer you to some of your friends who will eagerly attest to what Osteopathy is doing or has done for them. Phone me at 1407 at any time.

Imitators are not loved by true

2 CENT FARE; PASSENGER GAIN.

Annual Report of the New York, New Haven and Hartford.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—The annual report of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company for the last fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, published today, shows gross earnings from operation of $55,661,936, as compared with $52,984,322 for the previous year. Operating expenses were $37,850,081, as compared with $35,222,586 for the previous year, and net earnings from operations were $17,751,854, as compared with $17,761,735 the previous year. The surplus after dividends this year is $1,988,053, as compared with $2,718,287 last year. The reduction in the passenger rate to 2 cents a mile on the whole system, which was in full operation for seven months of the last fiscal year, shows that it resulted in a gain of passenger receipts, where a considerable loss was anticipated.

Theaters for 3 New Liners.

Liverpool, Oct. 4.—The Cunard Steamship company has accepted Charles Frohman's offer to provide suitable plays and concerts on its boats. A hall specially designed for such performances will be provided on each of the three projected Cunard steamships. The scheme will probably be tried first on the Lusitania. The chief difficulty with the players would probably arise from sea sickness.

From inquiries made in London the ocean theater is likely to be unpopular among actors and actresses. Their view is that they ought not to be made to work at sea when few are at their best. Seymour Hicks says that if Mr. Frohman wanted him to work at sea he would be seasick all the time.

Don't Recognize Uncle Sam.

Davenport, Ia., Oct. 4.—The federal government has run against a new snag here on the west bank of the Mississippi in the refusal of J. D. Martin of Crawfordville, Ia., to qualify as a petit juror. He told Judge Smith McPherson today he belonged to a church which did not recognize the liquor traffic, and so long as the government licensed it he would not recognize the government or its officials. Instead of holding Martin in contempt, the court expelled him from the panel.

Doctors Raise Rates.

Paris, Oct. 4.—The members of the medical society of Charenton, a large suburb of Paris, at a recent meeting, decided to raise rates to patients, owing to the rise in the cost of living. The decision has caused widespread excitement in the community, and a call for a meeting of protest has been issued.

Girl's Pathetic Death.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The body of Marc Sexton, a pretty girl, was found in the rear of the home of C. J. Gillespie. She had sent a bullet into her brain. A pathetic note was found, addressed to Gillespie, begging for the return of his love, and of her hands clutched a Bible.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Art Department.
The Art committee of the Woman's club will meet on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the club house. A full attendance is desired by Miss Webb, the chairman, to discuss the work for the year.

Woman's Club Have Business Session

The Woman's club held an interesting business session yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the first in the new club home. As no meetings except board meetings have been held during the summer, the reports of the different departments covered much ground, in speaking of the work already done and that planned for.

The president, Mrs. James A. Rudy, opened the session with a fine and thoughtful talk on the splendid work of the club already done, and the bright outlook for the future, now that the club was settled in its home.

The department of civics was reported by its chairman, Miss Adine Morton, who stressed the necessity of co-operation from the citizens before the best work could be done, citing the recent cleaning-up day, when 13 owners of vacant lots had notices served on them to cut down the weeds, and the majority paid no attention at all. In closing she expressed the wish that the civics department and the board of park commissioners could cooperate, the civics giving enthusiasm and the park board furnishing the money.

Mrs. I. D. Wilcox, chairman of the house committee, gave a fine report in regard to all the work done on the club house and the interest evinced by the members and outsiders in donations made. A rising vote of thanks was made Mrs. Wilcox and her committee for the excellent work done by them.

Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, in her report of the library department, outlined the splendid program on Modern Writers that will be studied this year. This department will meet alternate Thursday mornings at the club.

The philanthropic department through its chairman, Mrs. George C. Wallace, reported much charitable work carried on during the summer. It was by this department that the council was induced to pass the ordinance against street begging, a most commendable step. The sub-department of literature of this committee, Mrs. James Sleeth, chairman, is doing a good work in placing magazines and standard literature at the jail, county poor house, in drug stores of the outlying districts, and finds much interest evinced in it.

Miss Webb, chairman of art, reported 30 members of her committee and that the winter's study will be Sculpture and the Italian School of Art. She forcibly brought out the necessity of a knowledge of art now-a-days to make the thoroughly cultivated woman. The art department will have Laredo Taft, the head of the Chicago Art School, here on November 11. His subject will be "In an Artist's Studio," and he will be accompanied by a young artist who will model in clay, giving practical illustrations. Mr. Taft stands very high as an artist and speaker.

Mrs. Edmund M. Post, third vice-president in the State Federation, made a report on the recent lecture of Judge Willis Brown here, and complimented the generosity of citizens in co-operating with the club in bringing him. She stated that the Kentucky Federation would be represented at the meeting in Chicago of the International Juvenile Court society, recently incorporated in the state of Illinois.

Mrs. Henry C. Overby, chairman of the educational department, stressed the fine work that is being done among the district schools by the local D. A. R. and U. D. C. chapters, and the Kalosophic clubs. She also reported a "Mothers' Meeting" organized at the school near Wallace park by her committee. When interesting talks were made by Miss Compton, Judge E. W. Bagby, president of the library board, and others. Miss Newell made a delightful little talk, outlining the work of the musical department for this winter. It will strive to bring some one really great musical artist here, instead of having a number of mediocre ones. The club will give three programs this year. When Miss Newell concluded, Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells, president of the Matinee Musical club, made a graceful little talk promising the hearty co-operation of their club with the Woman's club musical work in behalf of the Woman's club Mrs. Muscoe Burnett expressed earnest appreciation of this.

The concluding business was voting on the new members, ten names were added yesterday to the club roster as follows:

Mrs. Frank L. Scott, Mrs. Hal Corbett, Mrs. Thomas Turner, Mrs. Frank Ferriman, Mrs. Fannie Allard, Mrs. John G. Brooks, Mrs. Joseph Gardner, Mrs. Ben Billings, Miss Helen Lowery, Miss Hallie Hiley.

Miss Frayser at Woman's Club.

Miss Nannie Lee Frayser, of Louisville, will lecture at the Woman's club house this evening at 8 p. m. under the auspices of the educational department, Mrs. Henry Overby, chairman, on the "Art of Story Telling." Miss Frayser's talk will appeal especially to mothers, but will be of interest to everyone. There will be no charge for admission. There will be a musical program before the lecture. Mrs. George B. Hart will render a piano selection and Mr. Robert Scott will sing. The public is cordially invited.

Miss Frayser will speak tomorrow afternoon at the club at 3 o'clock, especially to the teachers, along the same line.

Miss Frayser is a very charming speaker. She is a cousin of Miss Angie Thomas, of this city, and will be her guest. She is pleasantly remembered by many in Paducah.

Mr. Nahn Makes Delightful Address.

The first open meeting of the Woman's club for 1907-1908, was an event of more than usual interest and importance. It was held yesterday afternoon at the club house and was under the auspices of the literary department of the club. Mr. Max B. Nahn, of Bowling Green, had been secured by the department to give an address in "Folklore." It was Mr. Nahn's first public appearance in Paducah but he quite sustained his reputation as a delightful speaker. His popularity in Paducah was shown by the large audience that greeted him, a number of men being present.

Mr. Nahn was gracefully introduced by Mrs. Muscoe Burnett, chairman of the literary department, in a clever little speech. She stated that Mr. Nahn stood as the only person who unsolicited had come to the finance committee, when the club was first organized, and asked the privilege of contributing to it. There had been generous donations from many both at home and out-of-town, but Mr. Nahn's came unsolicited, which the club doubly appreciated.

Mr. Nahn, doubled his subject, "Folklore," most delightfully, and easily carried his audience with him. He showed a wide familiarity with the folklore of all nations in their native language, and gradually brought it down to our own Southland, where he dwelt more at length. His was the charm of the enthusiasm and love, who had loitered along the by-paths as well as followed the main travel highways. His thoughts were forceful and epigrammatic, and his audience echoed in closing the sympathy he felt for the child who did not love a story beginning "once upon a time."

Mr. Nahn showed himself a student and a thinker, and is a man of wide culture. He has frequently spoken in his home, Bowling Green, and it is safe to predict it is not his last appearance in Paducah, which claims the honor of being his "other home."

L. C. Starks, postmaster at Hardin, is in the city.

Mr. Lee Tick returned from Mayfield this morning.

Miss Nannie Lee Frayser, who will address the Woman's club, will be the guest of the family of Mrs. B. R. Thomas, of Ninth and Clay streets, while in Paducah.

Mrs. Lee Story, of Ohio street, mother of Perry Story, of the company, No. 4, is seriously ill of rheumatism and was in a precarious condition yesterday. Today she is slightly better. The fireman is attending her bedside.

Attorney Frank Lucas has returned from attending the Mayfield fair and races.

Miss Mamie Todd is ill at her home on South Third street.

Conley Johnston, the four-year-old son of W. F. Johnston, has recovered from severe burns.

Dr. S. D. Yonque, of Ohio, Tenn., was in the city today en route to his former home at Murray.

Mrs. B. E. W. Stout and Mrs. Hugh Gilbert returned to Owensboro today after visiting Mr. Roy Dawson.

Mrs. Lennie Harper returned from a visit to Mayfield today.

Mrs. Belle Murphy and Miss Fannie Hetzler, of Mayfield, arrived today to be the guest of Mrs. Samuel Quill, of 1213 Jackson street.

Mr. J. S. Jones returned to Marion, Ill., today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis and Mr. F. M. Bourne returned to Danville today after a visit to Mr. James McGinnis, of Walker's drug store.

Captain J. L. Timmons, of the transfer boat, went to Dawson today. Captain Timmons has been quite sick for several weeks.

Mr. Joe Holland and wife went to Linton today to visit their former home. Mr. Holland has a responsible position with the Ayer-Lord Tie company.

Mrs. W. E. Scott returned to her home at Dawson today after a visit to Mrs. J. A. Bauer, of Seventh and Madison streets.

Mr. F. M. McGlathery left today for the Jamestown exposition. He will visit in New York and Boston before returning.

Mrs. Caswell Bennett, who has been visiting relatives in the city, has returned to Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Thompson and Miss Hattie Thompson returned to their home in Pittsburg, Kansas, today after a visit to Mr. Leslie Thompson and family.

Major Escott, of the Salvation army, went to Owensboro today after visiting the local post.

Mrs. Annie Via, of Mayfield, is the guest of Mrs. G. W. Potts, of 1411 Madison street.

Mr. Schillo Testifies.

544 Park Ave., St. Paul, Minn.
Gentlemen:—With the greatest of pleasure, I let you know that two boxes of Lantz's Red Kidney Pills cured me entirely. I had kidney troubles for over a year, and I am sincerely thankful for the relief I have obtained through your Pills in such a short time. They will always be in my home hereafter.

(Signed) JOHN SCHILLO.
P. S.—Will gladly give reference if called upon.

February 12, 1907.

You may use my letter and name as you please, as I want others to know what Lantz's Red Kidney Pills have done for me. If you want to send a few samples, I will gladly give them to my friends and customers. I have not taken any Pills for three weeks, but am as well as twenty years ago.

(Signed) JOHN SCHILLO.
What Lantz's Red Kidney Pills have done for Mr. Schillo they will do for you.

They not only heal the kidneys, but they cleanse the blood and keep it pure.

Lantz's Red Kidney Pills are sold under a positive guarantee which appears in each box. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if they fall short of our promises.

EPISCOPAL.

The general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church convenes this week in Richmond, Va. This is the most important session of the church and meets every three years. The convention this year promises to be one of more than usual interest and prominence, and already the delegates are gathering from many lands. The convention will last through the month. The Rev. David C. Wright, of Grace church is a delegate to the convention, but will not be able to attend.

Of the convention in advance a Washington, D. C., correspondent says:

"This week we have been carrying an especially heavy line of ministers, a choice assortment of the clergy collected from the four quarters of the globe. En route to the general convention at Richmond, bishops, priests and deacons and lay brothers of the order of St. Andrew, have tinged the landscape with a sacerdotal hue. For the last few days the streets have been picturesque with visitors in ecclesiastical livery, distinguished prelates from everywhere, including the lord bishops of London, of Quebec, of Cuba, Honolulu, the West Indies, etc., in knee breeches and silk stockings and quaint Episcopal hats, here to assist in the notable ceremonies incident upon the laying of the corner stone on Sunday, of the superb Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. Participating in the magnificent fresco services at which the Bishop of London preached, were Bishops Woodcock and Burton, of Kentucky; Bishop Francis, of Indianapolis; Bishops Kinsolving and Johnson, of Texas; Bishop Gallor, of Tennessee; Bishop Bratton, of Mississippi; and countless other distinguished churchmen. The occasion was one of the most impressive events ever solemnized at the capital of the nation."

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

PRESERVING OUR RESOURCES NOW

altogether exceptional. Cities of astonishing growth are found everywhere from the Gulf to the great lakes, from the Alleghenies to the Rockies. Above all, the average man is honest, intelligent, self-reliant and orderly, and therefore a good citizen; and farmer and workman alike—in the last analysis the two most important men in the community—enjoy a standard of living, and have developed a standard of self-respecting, self-reliant manhood, which are of good augury for the future of the entire republic. No man can foresee the limit of the possibility of development in the Mississippi valley.

Welfare of the Nation.

"Such being the case, and this valley being literally the heart of the United States, all that concerns its welfare must concern likewise the whole country. Therefore, the Mississippi river and its tributaries ought by all means to be utilized to their utmost possibility. Facility of cheap transportation is an essential in our modern civilization, and we can not afford any longer to neglect the great highways which nature has provided for us. These natural highways, the waterways, can never be monopolized by any corporation. They belong to all the people, and it is in the power of no one to take them away. Wherever a navigable river runs beside railroads the problem of regulating the rates on the railroads becomes far easier, because river regulation is rate regulation. When the water sinks, the land rate can not be kept at an excessive height. Therefore it is of national importance to develop these streams as highways to the fullest extent which is genuinely profitable.

"Many cautious and conservative people will look askance upon the project, and from every standpoint it is necessary, if we wish to make it successful, that we should enter upon it only under conditions which will guarantee the nation against waste of its money, and which will insure us against entering upon any project until after the most elaborate expert examination, and reliable calculation of the proportion between cost and benefit. In any project like this there should be a definite policy.

"The industries developed under the stimulus of the railroads are for the most part permanent industries and therefore they form the basis for future development. But the railroads have shown that they alone cannot meet the demands of the country for transportation, and where this is true the rivers should begin to supplement the railroads, to the benefit of both, by relieving them of certain of the less profitable classes of freight. The more farseeing railroad men, I am glad to tell you, realize this fact.

"An investigation of the proposed Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway is now in progress under an appropriation of the last congress. We shall await its results with the keenest interest. The decision is obviously of capital importance to our internal development and scarcely less so in relation to external commerce.

Other Projects.

"The coal and oil measures which remain are passing rapidly, or have actually passed, into the possession of great corporations, who acquire ominous power through an unchecked control of these prime necessities of modern life; a control without supervision of any kind. We are consuming our forests three times faster than they are being reproduced.

"Our public lands, whose highest use is to supply homes for our people, have been and are still being taken in great quantities by large private owners, to whom home-making is at the very best but a secondary motive subordinate to the desire for profit.

"We are face to face with the great fact that the whole future of the nation is directly at stake in the momentous decision which is forced upon us. Shall we continue the waste and destruction of our natural resources, or shall we conserve them? There is no other question of equal gravity now before the nation.

"It is the plain duty of those of us who for the moment are responsible to make inventory of the natural resources which have been handed down to us, to forecast as well as we may the needs of the future, and so to handle the great sources of our prosperity as not to destroy in advance all hope for the prosperity of our descendants.

"As I have said elsewhere, the conservation of natural resources is the fundamental problem. Unless we solve that problem it will avail us little to solve all others. To solve it, the whole nation must undertake the task through their organizations and associations, through the men whom they have made especially responsible for the welfare of the several states, and finally through congress and the executive. As a preliminary step, the inland waterways commission has decided, with my full approval, to call a conference on the conservation of natural resources, including, of course, the streams, to meet in Washington during the coming winter. This conference ought to be among the most important gatherings in our history, nor none have had a more vital question to consider."

ROOSEVELT MAKES FINE IMPRESSION

as he left the station; but yesterday it was my good fortune to sit within five feet of him with a profile or front view of that much cartooned face for more than an hour.

Roosevelt is not an orator, as Bryan is an orator. He has none of that resonant quality of voice, that perfect harmony of accent and pitch and gesture and pose that sways men's emotional faculties. Roosevelt tickles their intellects. That is exact. I don't know why men laugh when they hear an epigram that expresses an abstract truth, pat to the matter under discussion, and that tallies with their own experiences, but they do. Roosevelt doesn't tell jokes, but the crowd was chuckling all the time yesterday, when they weren't cheering. And no public man ever uttered more pointed truths in simpler language, nor even employed figures more telling or more common than does Mr. Roosevelt.

Here are some sentences of yesterday: "I have confidence in the American people, because I know that at heart the American man is a good fellow; and I know his wife is a better fellow."

"We were responsible for turning on the light, but not for what that light disclosed."

"I think that any trouble is due fundamentally not to the fact that the national authorities have discovered and corrected certain abuses, but to the fact that those abuses were there to be discovered."

"Reform is the antidote to revolution. Social reform is not the precursor but the preventive of socialism."

"The corrupt man of business is as great a foe to this country as the corrupt politician."

"We should be so equipped and prepared that other nations will be friendly to us; because it pays to be friendly. A strong navy is our best assurance of peace and friendly intercourse with all nations, and the stronger our navy, the warmer will be their affection for us."

"A foolish pessimism is an even greater foe of healthy national growth than a foolish optimism."

Every success Roosevelt has as a public speaker, aside from his native honesty and sincerity, is the result of some defect overcome. Imperfection of teeth, tongue, lip and jaw have been reduced to subjection to a resolute will. Public talking is such an evident effort for him that it is almost painful to the hearer at first.

Also it can be noted that President Roosevelt is not at all times perfectly composed; and, although the same thing has been experienced by him time and time again, he was visibly affected by his reception yesterday. His utterances were choked at first, and then his lineaments wrinkled into one of those ample smiles, that in as good as a handclasp forming a bond between the speaker and his audience.

Roosevelt has not cultivated oratorical effects. His one desire seems to be to make his words and his meaning plain. The readjustment of his vocal organs after each syllable seems to be a conscious effort. He speaks slowly and distinctly, and he leaves his words to sink in of their own weight.

When he digresses from his written speech, he does it for the purpose of emphasis, and not for ornateness or humor. At those times his voice breaks in semi-comic fashion, he cocks his sideways and pauses with squinted eyes and panted lips at its own weight.

conclusion, that is not the rule of a public confidant. Mr. Roosevelt is just waiting for signs of full comprehension, and seems to be marshaling his own powers to aid you in grasping his meaning and purpose. When he sees the effect, the quizzical expression subsides into the normal, his head recovers its equilibrium, and President Roosevelt leaves the subject, seemingly with a snap. He doesn't waste words, the feeling or thought.

The best way to analyze the effect of a public speech, perhaps, is to measure your own feelings. Its conclusion, and the impression the speech left yesterday was that he had been talking to President Roosevelt. The very hesitancy of his expression when he digresses, his utter lack of ability or desire to smooth over breaks in continuity with oratorical tricks, the commonness of his thoughts, of his words and of his look, as distinguished from the personality that stands out in disparaging contrast externally with the average man, commend him to his audience as one of them.

The farmers of Iowa, the men of the western ranges, the inhabitants of the Mississippi valley cities, those who wish to know about the Panama canal, those who feared we might appear afraid of Japan—all these have heard satisfactory expressions from the president on this trip, and the allegiance of the middle west is once more assured this man, who says of himself: "I was born in the east; but I'm a middling good westerner. I am half northern and half southern and I am proud of my ancestry on the one side, as I am of my ancestry on the other. Indeed, as I have traveled through every state in the Union the thing that impresses me most about my audiences is their similarity one with another; not their dissimilarity. We are all pretty much alike."

All for Roosevelt.

I met men from Missouri and Illinois here last night, and drummers who travel through Wisconsin and Iowa. They say the people they meet are for Roosevelt, because they like his policies and they don't know where to turn for a man who combines the same principles with a similar quality of aggressiveness. The third term bugaboo doesn't seem to frighten them much. I never failed to mention it; but they have figured that all out satisfactorily.

A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quick relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

CHAPTER XIII.

PRINCE IVAN LERMONTOFF came to consider the explosion one of the luckiest things that had ever occurred in his workshop. Its happening so soon after he reached St. Petersburg he looked upon as particularly fortunate, because this gave him time to follow the new trend of thought along which his mind had been deflected by such knowledge as the unexpected outcome of his experiment had disclosed to him. The material he had used as a catalytic agent was a new substance which he had read of in a scientific review and he had purchased a small quantity of it in London. If such a minute portion produced results so tremendous, he began to see that a man with an apparently innocent material in his waistcoat pocket might probably be able to destroy a naval harbor, so long as water and stone were in conjunction. There was also a possibility that a small quantity of ozak, as the stuff was called, mixed with pure water, would form a reducing agent for limestone and perhaps for other minerals, which would work much quicker than if the liquid was merely impregnated with carbonic acid gas. He endeavored to purchase some ozak from Mr. Kruger, the chemist on the English quay, but that good man had never heard of it, and a day's search persuaded him that it could not be got in St. Petersburg, so the prince induced Kruger to order half a pound of it from London or Paris, in which latter city it had been discovered. For the arrival of this order the prince waited with such patience as he could call to his command and visited poor Mr. Kruger every day in the hope of receiving it.

One afternoon he was delighted to hear that the box had come, although it had not yet been unpacked.

"I will send it to your house this evening," said the chemist. "There are a number of drugs in the box for your old friend Professor Potkin of the university, and he is even more impatient for his consignment than you are for yours. Ah, here he is," and as he spoke the venerable Potkin himself entered the shop.

He shook hands warmly with Lermonoff, who had always been a favorite pupil of his, and learned with interest that he had lately been to England and America.

"Cannot you dine with me this evening at half past 5?" asked the old man. "There are three or four friends coming to whom I shall be glad to introduce you."

"Truth to tell, professor," demurred the prince, "I have a friend staying with me, and I don't just like to leave him alone."

"Bring him with you, bring him with you," said the professor, "but in any case be sure you come yourself. I shall be expecting you. Make your excuses to your friend if he does not wish to endure what he might think dry discussion, because we shall talk nothing but chemistry and politics."

The prince promised to be there whether his friend came or no. The chemist here interrupted him and told the professor he might expect his materials within two hours.

"And your package," he said to the prince, "I shall send about the same time. I have been very busy and can trust no one to unpack this box but myself."

"You need not trouble to send it, and in any case I don't wish to run the risk of having it delivered at a wrong address by your messenger. I cannot afford to wait so long as would be necessary to duplicate the order. I am dining with the professor tonight, so will drive this way and take the parcel myself."

"Perhaps," said the chemist, "it would be more convenient if I sent your parcel to Professor Potkin's house?"

"No," said the prince decisively, "I shall call for it about 5 o'clock."

"The professor," he said, "never trust each other," so they shook hands and parted.

On returning to his workshop, Lermonoff bounded up the stairs and hailed his friend the Lieutenant.

"I say, Drummond, I'm going to dine tonight with Professor Potkin of the university, my old teacher in chemistry. His hour is half past 5, and I've got an invitation for you. There will be several scientists present and no women. Will you come?"

"I'd a good deal rather not," said the Englishman. "I'm wiring into these books and studying strategy. Making plans for an attack upon Kronstadt."

"Well, you take my advice, Alan, and don't leave any of those plans around where the St. Petersburg police will find them. Such a line of London than here. You'd be very welcome, Drummond, and the old boy would be glad to see you. You don't need to bother about evening togs—plain living and high thinking, you know. I'm merely going to put on a clean collar and a new tie as sufficient for the occasion."

"I'd rather not go, Jack, if you don't mind. If I'm there you'll all be trying to talk English or French, and I'd feel myself rather a damper on the company. Besides, I don't know anything about science, and I'm trying to learn something about strategy. What time do you expect to be back?"

"Rather early. Ten or half past."

"Good. I'll wait up for you."

At 5 o'clock Jack was at the chemist's and received his package. On opening it he found the ozak in two four-ounce glass stoppered bottles, and these he put in his pocket.

"Will you give me three spray syringes, as large a size as you have, rubber, glass and metal? I'm not sure but this stuff will attack one or other of them, and I don't want to spend the rest of my life running down to your shop."

Getting the syringes, he jumped into his cab and was driven to the professor's.

"You may call for me at 10," he said to the cabman.

There were three others besides the professor and himself, and they were all interested in learning the latest scientific news from New York and London.

It was a quarter past 10 when the company separated. Lermonoff stepped into his cab, and the driver went rattling up the street. In all the talk the prince had said nothing of his own discovery, and now when he found himself alone his mind reverted to the material in his pocket, and he was glad the cabman was galloping his horse that he might be the sooner in his workshop. Suddenly he noticed that they were dashing down a street which ended at the river.

"I say," he cried to the driver, "you've taken the wrong turning. This is a blind street. There's nothing but a bridge down here. Turn back."

"I see that now," said the driver over his shoulder. "I'll turn round at the end where it is wider."

He did turn, but instead of coming up the street again dashed through an open archway which led into the courtyard of a large building fronting the Neva. The moment the carriage was inside the gates clanged shut.

"Now, what in the name of St. Peter do you mean by this?" demanded the prince angrily.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drought are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me."

The safest and most reliable cough and cold remedy and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

KNEES FRACTURED; ROLLS FROM DANGER.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3.—By presence of mind W. A. Beard, a prominent farmer of Metcalfe county, saved himself from death beneath the wheels of a street car.

Beard jumped from the car while it was in motion. He fell directly in the path of a car bound in the opposite direction and only a few yards away. In falling he sustained a fracture of both knees and was unable to rise to his feet. By a supreme effort he rolled over and had just reached a point of safety when the car passed. He was so close at the time that the edge of the guard struck his left leg, tearing his trousers.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists, 50c.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 3.—One of the briefest wills on record has just been filed at Columbia, Tenn. It reads: "I-2807. Pay to the order of Mother all on earth I have at my death. (Signed) J. M. GOODLOE."

The will was written on the back of a bank check, and while there were no witnesses, the signature is known to be Goodloe's. His estate is worth about $5,000.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. ## Stomach Muscles in Old Age

People should be more and more careful, as age advances, to see that their bowels move regularly. In this way they can keep themselves in good health and prolong life. The bowels are not as active in middle-life and old age as they are in youth, and with the majority there is a tendency to constipation of a chronic and obstinate nature.

To ward off the possibility of serious diseases use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. It is especially suited to the use of elderly people because it is prompt but gentle in action, and does its work without griping or weakening. It is the case with acids, purgative waters and cathartic tablets. These should not be used by children, women, old folks or weak people because they are so violent in action and generally grip. Furthermore, the results are temporary as reaction sets in and the bowels are bound up more than ever.

A remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is very gentle in action and yet thoroughly effective, and as it contains no toxic properties, it strengthens the system instead of weakening it. The results are permanent because gradual, and many can in a short time do away with the use of all laxatives. It will cure the most chronic constipation, dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, and all the troubles that attend a sluggish and inactive stomach. It is a sure cure for all the troubles that attend a sluggish and inactive stomach. It is a sure cure for all the troubles that attend a sluggish and inactive stomach.

FREE TEST. Those wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying it, will find it in every drug store. It is a sure cure for all the troubles that attend a sluggish and inactive stomach. It is a sure cure for all the troubles that attend a sluggish and inactive stomach.

UNWORLDLY CHURCH

URGED BY VENERABLE BISHOP OF LONDON.

The Fortbreaching, Energizing and Active Love of God" Is His Subject.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 4.—Of the 102 members of the house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church which assembled here in the forty-fifth triennial convention only ten were absent. A large number of foreign high church dignitaries were present, including the archbishop of the West Indies and the bishops of London, St. Albans, Montgomery, Niagara, Quebec, Ontario, and MacKenzie river. The business of the two houses was confined to organization and both bodies re-elected all of their officers by acclamation.

By far the most interesting of the proceedings was the holy communion at Holy Trinity church where the Right Rev. Winington-Ingram, bishop of London, preached the sermon and all of the visiting bishops participated in the procession. The bishop said:

"Undoubtedly the future can only belong to a church which believes and preaches the forthbreaching, energizing, and active love of God. God forbid that I should deny the difficulties which surround a belief in the love of God, or ignore the stern side of the new testament, but no church will save the world and especially those thousand millions who have not yet had a chance of making up their minds as to the truth of Christianity, except a church that believes and proclaims and lives out the love of God to every child that He has made."

"The most evangelistic, the most Catholic, the most orthodox church on earth will produce no effect upon the world if it has not still one further characteristic. It must clearly and unmistakably and before all the world be unworlly itself."

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well."

That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all druggists, 50c.

WILL WRITTEN ON BACK OF BANK CHECK.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 3.—One of the briefest wills on record has just been filed at Columbia, Tenn. It reads: "I-2807. Pay to the order of Mother all on earth I have at my death. (Signed) J. M. GOODLOE."

The will was written on the back of a bank check, and while there were no witnesses, the signature is known to be Goodloe's. His estate is worth about $5,000.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by all druggists 25c.

—If you have "planned for years to own a horse and carriage," why don't you "test the market" with a want ad? You will probably find that you can afford these things now!

No man ever created anything greater than himself.

For the CHAFING DISH Denatured Alcohol

We take pleasure in announcing that we now have Denatured Alcohol for our trade. It is to be used for burning purposes only, as nearly every one now knows, but for use in the arts and mechanics it is the most economical and satisfactory fuel known.

Cheaper than wood alcohol, it also burns without any of its offensive odor. Next time try it in your chafing dish or alcohol heater; it will be a revelation to you. Be sure to phone WINSTEAD'S, for no other Paducah druggist handles it.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS MEET TOMORROW

Three Sessions of the County Association.

Excellent Program With Eminent Workers Who Will Discuss Important Topics.

THE REV. WILLIAM BOURQUIN.

The annual convention of the McCracken County Sunday School Association will convene tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian church at 9 o'clock. The Rev. William E. Bourquin, the county president, will preside, and the program is a most interesting one. All Sunday school workers and any who are interested in the cause, should attend every session. The majority of the city Sunday schools elected delegates to the convention last Sunday and these should be on hand. The report blanks should be carefully filled out and brought by the delegates of the various schools with a contribution from the school. Attendance from the schools should not be limited to the delegates, however, all teachers and officers, as well as the older pupils, will find it profitable to come out. The program is:

Saturday Morning.

9:30—Devotional, the Rev. G. W. Banks.

9:45—Sunday School Work in Our City and County, the Rev. William Bourquin.

10—The Primary Department, Miss Alice Compton.

10:30—The Elementary Department, Miss Nannie Lee Frayser, of Louisville.

11—The Adult Department, Mr. J. G. Miller.

11:30—The Associated Sunday School Work, the Rev. E. B. Kuntz, Mayfield.

12—Adjournment.

Saturday Afternoon.

This session will be at the Kentucky Avenue Presbyterian church.

2—Conditions and Needs of the Sunday Schools.

Fifth and Sixth magisterial districts, Mr. Keener Rudolph, of Lone Oak, secretary of district association.

2:10—Seventh district, Mr. W. T. Harrison, Lone Oak, president of district association.

2:20—Eighth district, the Rev. J. H. Thomas, Woodville, president of district association.

2:30—Great Movements, in Sunday School Work, the Rev. E. B. Kuntz, Mayfield.

3—Adjournment because of lecture of Miss Nannie Lee Frayser to public school teachers of the county at Woman's club building.

Saturday Night.

7:30—Devotional exercises, the Rev. J. R. Henry.

7:45—The Sunday School a Vast Field of Opportunity, J. A. Carnegie, superintendent of public schools.

8:10—Echoes of State Sunday School convention, Prof. W. H. Suggs, principal of High school.

8:40—Bible Stories, Miss Nannie Lee Frayser.

9—The Union Teachers' Training Class, the Rev. D. C. Wright.

9:15—Business.

9:30—Adjournment.

NINETEEN-HOUR DAYS.

"Our hours," said a nature student, "are nothing to the birds. Why some birds work in the summer nineteen hours a day. Indefatigably they clear the crops of insects."

"The thrush gets up at 2:30 every summer morning. He rolls up his sleeves and falls to work at once, and he never stops until 9:30 at night—a clean nineteen hours. During that time he feeds his voracious young 206 times."

The blackbird start work at the same time as the thrush, but he lays off earlier. His whistle blows at 7:30, and during his seventeen-hour

LENIENCY

WAS WHAT HE EXPECTED, HE GOT 7 YEARS.

Prisoner Said He Pleaded Guilty Because He Had No Confidence In Juries.

The following letter, written by a prisoner now serving seven years for robbery, was discovered among records of September criminal court:

I will take the pleasure in writing to you & to let you no that the reason that I entered a Plea of Guilty was that I was a scared of the jurors as they have been punishing the boys in here so severely. Your Hon. my charge was robbery & I ask the leniency of your court with I think I should of gotten with I never, so this is the reason that I am asking you to please grant me this favor & sit that decision & fix my punishment your self as I think that you will give me justice so I will close for this time hoping you will grant this favor for me, I remain Yours Truly,

A MOST WORTHY ARTICLE.
 When an article has been on the market for years and gains friends every year, it is safe to call this medicine a worthy one. Such is Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It positively cures coughs and all pulmonary diseases. One of the best known merchants in Mobile, Ala. writes: "For five years my family has not been troubled with the winter coughs. We owe this to Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I know it has saved my children from many sick spells." Sold by J. H. Oehlischlaeger, Lang Bros. and C. O. Ripley.

RIVER NEWS

Business was brisk on the wharf today, the boats and their crews, which laid off yesterday to attend the big celebration at Cairo resuming their regular work today.

The accumulation of two days' freight caused the Dunbar to get out late this morning and when she was finally ready for the start to Cairo the boat was loaded to the guards.

The City of Saltville is late on her return trip to the Tennessee from St. Louis and will not reach Paducah before tomorrow.

The Saltville carried the East St. Louis Commercial club up the river to meet the president on the occasion of his visit to St. Louis.

The Kentucky came in last night from the Tennessee and will lay over here until Saturday before getting away on her return trip.

The Butterff is again late in getting in from Evansville. She was due in here last night.

The Joe Fowler is due in from Evansville today.

The Sprague is still tied up over at the island waiting for a more favorable stage of water before going on her way up the Ohio with a tow of light coal barges.

The new stacks have been placed in position on the Chaney Lamb and she will soon be ready to take up her regular work of bringing ties out of the Tennessee river.

The Blue Spot is in from the Tennessee river with a tow of ties.

The Henrietta is on the ways for repairs.

The Cowling came in from Metropolis this morning after a day's lay off her regular run to carry an excursion to Cairo.

The Royal was in and out on time today, carrying a good business on both trips.

The towboats Castilla and Enneris left yesterday for Big Bend shoals to assist in the work of raising the Jim Duffy.

The stage today was 7.9, a fall of 0.2.

MAYFIELD.

A wedding with a romantic tinge occurred in Mayfield Wednesday evening when George D. Wadleigh of Pine Bluff, Ark., was married to Miss May Jackson, of St. Louis. Rev. C. A. Warfield officiated. The groom is a traveling salesman for the Merit Manufacturing company of this city, and by appointment met his lady love in this city. Mr. Wadleigh was to have met his intended bride in Paducah, but as the trains and ill luck would have it their way, he missed her and she came on to Mayfield. She was found at Hotel Hall and the two secured a conveyance, giving the driver instructions to go to the home of Deputy County Clerk Oscar George to secure the license. Instead the driver went to the home of Hon. Tom George, one mile in the country. This made the second fruitless trip, but matters were finally arranged and they were made man and wife.

While in the city Wednesday Hon. John R. Ray informed a reporter that he was no longer a candidate for the state senate.

Mrs. Bettie Singleton, who conducted a boarding house on West Water street has moved to Paducah.

MRS. CROSS

DIES AT HOME OF HER SON, PATRIOTMAN CROSS.

Was Visiting Her Son When She Was Stricken With Pneumonia—Two Little Ones.

Mrs. America Cross, 79 years old, one of the oldest residents of Union county, died at the home of her son, Patriotman Cross, of 1016 Jackson street, this morning at 4 o'clock of pneumonia, after a week's illness. Mrs. Cross was on a visit to her son, and was in good health until one week ago when attacked by what was thought to be a severe cold, which later developed into the most serious of diseases.

Mrs. Cross was born in Shelby county, 79 years ago, and forty years ago removed to Sturgis to reside. She was prominent and popular among a wide circle of friends, and in her church, the Presbyterian, was an unceasing worker. Two weeks ago she came to Paducah to visit her son.

Mrs. Cross leaves the following children: Messrs. Elijah Cross, Paducah; Robert Cross, Sturgis; J. W. Cross, Princeton, and Mesdames Lula Bishop, Henshaw; Viola Williams Josie Jones and Mrs. Emma Woolbridge, of Sturgis. She leaves a sister and brother in Louisville. They are Mrs. Cynthia Dugan and Mr. J. W. Adams.

The body was prepared for burial and today at noon was taken to Sturgis, accompanied by Mr. Elijah Cross, who will attend the funeral.

Two Little Children.
 Katie Ford, five years old, daughter of Mr. W. M. Ford, of Sharp Marshall county, died last night of diphtheria, and was buried this afternoon in Hodgsonfield cemetery.

The four-month-old daughter of Mr. D. B. Sils, of the Burgess road, in the county, died this morning of stomach trouble, and was buried this afternoon in the Bell cemetery.

Bridge Carpenter Hurt.
 G. O. Simmons, 30 years old, a bridge carpenter employed at Barlow on the Cairo extension of the Illinois Central, fell from a scaffold this morning about 8 o'clock at Barlow and painfully bruised his shoulders and hips. He was brought to the city this morning and placed in the I. C. hospital.
